ICEINWATERFOUNTAINS

REFRESHING CUSTOM SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN DISCONTINUED
IN GLENDALE

The above heading is somewhat misleading and would perhaps better read, "No Ice in the Water Fountains." Two years ago, after considerable agitation, two public water fountains were installed by the City of Glendale, one in front of the city hall and the other in front of the Pacific Electric station on Brand boulevard. At the time these fountains were installed large ice boxes were placed at the base of the fountains and by means of spiral pipes the water was cooled from the ice in these boxes. During the summer months the practice of furnishing the general public with ice cold water has been a great advertisement for Glendale. Thousands of people have been in the habit of quenching their thirst daily at these fountains, and in the lapse of two years Glendale has become renowned in this section of Southern California as being the city that furnishes ice cold water to tourists and all others who come within her borders.

For the past few weeks this very commendable practice has been discontinued. Whether it be a war measure or a scarcity of ice or that the present Board of City Trustees wishes to give visitors a warmer reception than formerly, or whether some member on the Board has received a tip from the soda fountain men, are merely conjectures, but the solid facts remain that a very popular and much-needed practice has been discontinued, and we feel that a mistake has been made.

DEATH OF MRS. DOW.

Mrs. Elsie C. Dow, of 1458 Oak street, passed away on Saturday, July 20, aged 35 years. The deceased leaves to survive her a husband, Amos A. Dow, one son, Kenneth B. Dow, a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dunham, of 642 North Louise street, three sisters and three brothers. The sisters are: Mrs. Carrie Sankee of Glendale, Mrs. Cornelia Kammerling of Venice, and Mrs. Grace McFadden, of Marne, Ia. The brothers are: John Swinburne of Glendale, Frank Dunham of Atlantic, Ia., and Manley R. Dunham of Anita, Ia. Mrs. Dow, with her family, had been a former resident of Glendale before moving to Sacramento from where the family recently returned because of her health. She was born in New York State. Funeral services will be conducted from the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Soper, of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

SUDAN GRASS

Among the Glendale people who have made practical use of their vacant lots for food-production this season is Harold Davenport, of 223 North Glendale avenue, Tropic, who has a 2-acre piece on Brand boulevard planted to Sudan grass. This grass was planted on April 20th and has already yielded one cutting of several tons. Mr. Davenport hopes to get at least two more cuttings before the end of the season. He says that a number of other Glendale residents have adopted this same forage crop as a vacant lot conservation measure, in a number of instances feeding it to their own back-yard farm stock, thus devoting it to the valuable war measure of meat production.

MRS. BURLINGHAM ILL

IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION IN HOSPITAL AT TACOMA
WASHINGTON

Mrs. Ed. Burlingham, formerly of Glendale and wife of one of Glendale's first soldiers at the front, has been very ill for the past few weeks, having been in a hospital at Tacoma for about seven weeks. Mrs. Burlingham left Glendale last fall at the time of the death of her sister in Tacoma, and assumed the care of the four motherless children. Though she has been in frail health for some time, Mrs. Burlingham also "adopted" 15 of the soldier boys from Camp Lewis, who were frequent guests at her home, enjoying the home-cooked good things which she took so much pleasure in preparing for them. Her many Glendale friends will be much grieved to hear of her continued suffering.

HURT IN PLANE FALL

PROF. RICHARDSON IS HOME ON LEAVE RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Prof. Elmer C. Richardson, formerly of 1478 West Second street, who gave up his work at the Glendale Union High School during the past year to volunteer his services in the aviation department, is at home with his family, now living in Eagle Rock, on a 30-day leave of absence following an accident in which he was badly injured. Prof. Richardson was unconscious for eight days following the fall and was removed to his home when able to travel.

The accident occurred when Professor Richardson, with an instructor, was flying at a height of about two hundred feet above the ground, practicing a figure-eight curve. The machine struck an air pocket while in a vertical position and, though Mr. Richardson took the prescribed precautionary measures, the position was too near the ground to give it time to right itself. With another 25 feet, Mr. Richardson thinks the accident could have been prevented.

While the instructor was only slightly injured, the pupil struck with tremendous force full on his face, breaking his nose just below the eyes. In addition to the resulting brain concussion, his left wrist was broken, and both ankles badly injured, being both sprained and broken. Mr. Richardson feels confident that he will be able to return to the work at the end of his leave and that his experience will in no way incapacitate him for flying. Mrs. Richardson, with their three small children, will remain at their Eagle Rock home.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

MRS. BARTLETT ENTERTAINS
FOR MRS. LAWRENCE
ELLIS

The farewell reception given on Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, who is soon to leave for Seattle, by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett at her home, 101 South Brand boulevard, was attended by more than forty guests despite the large number now away on their summer vacations. The afternoon was spent informally in conversation. Mrs. L. N. Hagood contributed several much appreciated piano selections and Mrs. Calvin Whiting's vocal solos were much enjoyed. Refreshments were served in the dining room, Mrs. Robert Blackburn presiding over the punch. The decorations were especially lovely, being hydrangeas and red and white carnations.

BICYCLE STOLEN

Master John Judd was so unfortunate as to lose his bicycle while he was at Sunday School at the First Baptist church on Sunday. He left his wheel outside the church and when he came out it had disappeared. It was an American wheel, painted red, single bar, Fiske tires, Corbin-Duplex brake and light. John is an industrious boy and earned his wheel by his own efforts. It is hard luck for him to lose it and the person who took it is mighty mean in addition to being dishonest. John will be thankful to receive any information in regard to his wheel.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Volunteer workers for smoothing and folding tin foil are requested to enlist for service tomorrow if possible, as a shipment is almost in readiness from the headquarters of the Glendale Red Cross. Those in charge believe that if a dozen or more patriotic workers will contribute their time for one day, this task can be completed. Children are proficient at this work and usually enjoy it when they realize that their services are of real help in the big war. Several little girls of late have been bringing their lunches and staying the whole day, in this way getting a great deal of work accomplished.

RETURN TO NORTHERN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gates and baby son, Charles, will leave tomorrow for their home in Oakland after a visit of several weeks with Mrs. Gates' sister, Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock, and family at their home, 519 West Park avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Gates will motor and will be accompanied on the trip by Master Allan Pollock, who expects to pay them a visit of several weeks. Mrs. Gates has made many friends during her visit of four weeks in Glendale. She was joined two weeks ago by her husband.

CANNONADING OFF ATLANTIC COAST

THAT NAVY VESSELS HAVE LOCATED ENEMY SUBMARINE BELIEF AT PROVINCETOWN AND NEARBY CITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PROVINCETOWN, Mass., July 22.—Heavy cannonading is reported off the coast at noon today.

It is believed that navy vessels have located a submarine. Several nearby towns have reported hearing shots. This port is closed to all shipping.

ALLIED DRIVE CONTINUES

SUPPLY COMPANIES AND MILITARY POLICE GET INTO THE FIGHT—ENEMY RETREATS RAPIDLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
ON THE AMERICAN FRONT, July 22.—The Americans continued their advance on the Marne to Bezu-St. Gobain while British, French and American troops pinched bot hends of the Soissons-Rheims salient.

In the middle of the line the Americans have great difficulty in maintaining contact with the enemy owing to their rapid retreat.

Supply companies, military police and other non-combatant units are on the firing line at their own request.

Aviators report that anti-aircraft guns fired on them from Eples forest, indicating that the Germans had planned to make their stand there. The Olchy-le-Chateau road has been penetrated, giving the allies domination over the Chateau-Fisney highway and hampering the enemy's retirement.

German prisoners say they were ordered to retire north from the Marne. This indicates a plan to make a stand on the Ourcq. The Germans are concentrating their defense south of Soissons to protect their west wing.

East of Rheims German cavalry charged American infantry, but the doughboys quickly annihilated the enemy and subsequent attacks at the same spot by tanks were stopped.

ALLIES MAINTAIN POSITIONS

FIERCE GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS HAVE BEEN REPELLED—ALLIES CROSS MARNE AT SEVERAL PLACES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, July 22.—Desperate German counter attacks five miles north of Chateau-Thierry have been completely repelled. North of Ourcq and between the Marne and Rheims there was only artillery action. Their infantry was not thrown against the allies.

Allied positions are being maintained everywhere. Paris newspapers declare that a heavy rear guard action throwing the American-French advance north of Chateau-Thierry is the only obstacle to allied progress on the whole front.

The Marne has been crossed at several new places by the allies.

INVESTIGATE DEPTH BONBS

DANIELS ORDERS PROBE INTO APPARENT FAILURE OF BOMBS TO EXPLODE WHEN DROPPED FROM AIR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—Secretary of War Daniels has ordered a sweeping investigation of the apparent failure of depth bombs to explode when aeroplanes dropped them at the submarine that shelled the coast yesterday.

Daniels wants to be sure that these bombs have not been tampered with. Navy vessels are scouring the coast for the diver.

RUMANIAN UPRISING

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND GERMAN TROOPS SENT TO QUELL REBELLION OF CONQUERED PEOPLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—Germany has rushed 300,000 troops to Rumania to crush an uprising in the conquered country. Clashes between Rumanians and German troops are said to have become widespread and violent.

Rumania is resisting Germany's attempt to transport grain to Germany.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES ARREST LATZ

WEALTHY GERMAN-MEXICAN ARRESTED FOR HAVING FIREARMS AT HOME HELD BY FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Miguel Latz, millionaire Mexican citizen of German birth, was arrested at noon today by federal authorities. Latz had been arrested previously by civil authorities for violating the espionage law in having firearms at his palatial West Adams street home. The presidential warrant was served as Latz was leaving the court room this noon.

WAR MOTHERS

HOLD STIRRING MEETING AT HOME OF MRS. CHARLES
W. BURKET

The war mothers' meeting of the W. C. T. U. held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Burket, 705 West Fifth street, was an occasion of stirring patriotism and was attended by the majority of mothers of the boys for whom 25 stars are on the service flag of the local chapter. The hostess had decorated with a profusion of patriotic emblems, the living room being draped in several large flags, including a big Union Jack, an American flag, and her own service flag as well as the large one belonging to the chapter. Pictures of many of Glendale's soldier boys added much personal interest to the setting, among which were pictures of several companies in which were local boys.

The president, Mrs. Ruby Smart, presided, and turned the program of the day over to Mrs. Chandler. Several girls of the Y. P. B. furnished music, Miss Elizabeth Mottern being at the piano, and all joining in the singing of patriotic songs. The afternoon was given over to the reading of letters and the telling of anecdotes of the local boys in the service and proved of absorbing interest. Pathetic and humorous stories were recounted to a deeply interested audience eager to hear each and every detail of the lives of the soldiers sons. During these recitals work on comfort bags proceeded uninterruptedly, a considerable number previously made being finished and filled. The meeting broke up at a late hour with a unanimous vote for a repetition of the plan.

INFORMAL PARTY

MISS RUTH WILSON WAS HOSTESS TO YOUNG LADY FRIENDS
SATURDAY EVE

Miss Ruth Wilson, of 326 South Louise street, entertained informally a number of her girl friends at her home Saturday evening. The evening was spent in knitting, music and dancing and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, whose mother, Mrs. Bertha Wilson, assisted her in entertaining. Floral decorations in yellow brightened the rooms very prettily. Vocal solos were contributed by Misses Dorothy Hunt, Dorothy Morton and Marie Oliver; Misses Marguerite Hauber and Ruth Wilson giving several piano selections. Those present besides the hostess and her mother were Misses Dorothy Hunt, Dorothy Morton, Frae Morse, Louise Ferris, Grace Shropshire, Marie Oliver, all of Glendale, Miss Marguerite Hauber of La Crescenta, and Miss Gladys Kline of 620 Heliotope drive, Los Angeles, who was the week-end guest of Miss Wilson.

Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

The Department of Commerce issues the following:

A marked degree of success has attended the work of the Y. M. C. A. Radio School in Detroit, Mich., which was opened October 15, 1917, under the supervision and instruction of S. W. Edwards, United States radio inspector, and has been in continuous operation since that date. From three classes organized, 280 students were graduated. A fourth class of 75 students is now under instruction and is expected to finish early in August. Out of the 280 students already graduated 89 passed the Government examination for commercial radio operator's license; 137 of the graduates are now in active service—25 being in aviation work, 44 in the Navy, 62 in the Signal Corps, and 6 employed as commercial operators on the Great Lakes.

Letters have been sent to the various schools and colleges in the Detroit radio district stating the situation in regard to the demand for radio operators, requesting them to continue their efforts in training large classes of young men, and assuring them of the full co-operation of the radio inspector.

WHEATLESS LOAF

A recipe for a wheatless loaf of bread is soon to be made public by the office of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture. It is the discovery of the experimental kitchen conducted jointly by the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration. Directions are to be given for the making of three new wheat substitute breads—the half wheat loaf, the one-fourth wheat loaf, and the wheatless loaf. The recipe is expected to save thousands of pounds of wheat flour.

SYSTEM IN THE A. E. F.

"STARS AND STRIPES TELLS HOW
MAIL IS HANDLED AND RECORDS
KEPT IN FRANCE

A copy of "The Stars and Stripes," the official publication of the American Expeditionary Force in France, has been loaned this office by Mrs. J. M. Wilson. The paper was sent her by her son, Joe Wilson, who is with Pershing's forces in France.

The paper describes a new system put in force June 30 to solve the knotty problem of getting letters to and from the ever-shifting personnel of vast armies in the field. This is the Military Postal Express Service and its director says its success will depend on the co-operation of officers in charge of army corps and divisional postal detachments. Such commanding officer must pick a man for orderly who will serve immediate notice on the nearest M. P. E. S. office whenever his unit moves in or out of its territory. If the unit moves out of all touch with any such office the orderly must wire the new whereabouts to the U. S. Central postoffice at Tours. For serving the unsettled troops itinerant postoffices were created by army, corps, or divisional troops. Each such itinerant postoffice has an A. P. O. number and that number will be the permanent address of all regiments, companies or individuals composing these units. The division may move but the A. P. O. number is fixed. A soldier moves and his address moves with him.

Another innovation described is the Central Records office recently moved from General Headquarters to the little village of St. Pierre des Corps not far from Tours. This unit is absorbing some of the work formerly performed by separate units and the idea is to centralize the army statistical work.

The Central Records Office is a room so large that it makes the biggest newspaper city room in America look like a hall bedroom. "Within this one room warehouse 724 feet long, in which as you look in from the main entrance the rows upon rows of typewriters and filing cabinets stretching far away in the distance hold the records of all of us. It is the index of the A. E. F.," says the "Stars and Stripes." There, no matter how much a man may move about, is recorded his whereabouts and every move he has made in a card catalogue.

The paper gives the weekly record of French orphans adopted by the American Expeditionary Force, which brings the total number up to 300. It also records the names of men to whom Distinguished Service crosses have been awarded.

OPPORTUNITY FOR CIVILIANS TO BECOME ARMY OFFICERS

The War Department is now offering an opportunity to civilians, either in the draft age or up to 40 years, a chance to enroll in the officers' training schools. Five of these schools, in continuous session, will, after the first four months, graduate 600 young men for commissions from each school each month.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICE FLAG

The Glendale Presbyterian Church yesterday placed two additional stars on their service flag, which brings the total up to 44. Names of the two are Paul Pierce and John McCoy.

RED CROSS DIETICIAN

MISS DAVIS, A NEW ARRIVAL,
WILL CARRY WORK AT GOOD
SAMARITAN HOSPITAL

Miss Norma Davis and her father, Geo. W. Davis, of Chicago, who are spending the summer at 212 Dayton court, were week-end visitors at Pomona, motoring over Friday to visit relatives and returning Sunday evening. Miss Davis has been a domestic science teacher during the past year at Elko, Nevada, and expects to take post graduate work next year at Wisconsin University. She is also a Red Cross dietitian and plans to continue in this service during the summer through the Los Angeles Red Cross chapter, also carrying work at the Good Samaritan hospital during the month of August. Mr. Davis is principal of one of the big Chicago grammar schools and both he and Miss Davis joined Mrs. Davis and another daughter, Mrs. Beal, who earlier in the year came to make their home in Glendale.

BYSTANDER'S REFLECTIONS

By "K."

Gen. Wm. Tecumseh Sherman, the great Union leader who made the famous march from Atlanta to the sea, once unintentionally paid a high tribute to his skillful opponent, Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, one of the wisest of the Confederate chieftains. It was after Johnston had been deposed, Hood, who succeeded him had fought several desperate and losing battles and Atlanta had fallen. Hood then conceived the bold idea of raiding with his entire army to Sherman's rear in the hope of forcing his return to the north. He made an almost successful attack on Allatoona where two million rations were stored by Sherman in anticipation of the march to the sea, which attack was repelled by the unexampled bravery of the little force of less than 2000 men under Gen. J. M. Corse, who when asked by Gen. Sherman's "wig-wag" signal from the top of Kenesaw mountain as to how the battle went, replied, "minus a cheek bone and an ear, but able to whip all hell yet." Hood demonstrated strongly toward Chattanooga, but passed to the eastward of that important base and thus sorely perplexed Gen. Sherman, who in his exasperation said: "I can not guess Hood's designs as I could Johnston's, who is a sensible man and does things according to the rules of war." The German generals are now paying a like tribute to the American forces by expressing their discontent at the latter's disregard of set rules. They refuse to retreat when they ought to, say the Huns, and they attack against apparently hopeless odds. But they always win, just the same.

We Americans sometimes smile at some of the peculiar idioms of the French language such as Chalons-sur-Marne, which literally translated means Chalons under the Marne river. And the same way they say Boulogne-sur-mer, or Boulogne under the sea. But we say Washington on the Potomac when we mean Washington by the Potoame, and we call tracts near a city suburbs, which means under the city. So let us not throw stones. It is said no native American or Englishman can ever acquire the exact pronunciation of the French "u." My French teacher in college told us in class that the nearest we could come to it was to start with the sound of "oo" and shade off into the sound of long "e." If you get a chance some time watch a Frenchman as he pronounces sur, peur or soeur. The "u," "eu" and "oeu" all have exactly the same sound. And in French "on," "om," "en," "em" all have the same sound, which is "ong," except when the consonant is doubled and then it takes the real sound. Thuc "l'enfant," the child, is pronounced "longfong," and Chalons is called "Shalong." The French sentry challenges with "Qui va la?" "Who goes there?" or "Qui vive," "Who lives," meaning the same thing in both instances.

SOLDIERS IN FIELD AND CAMP GET MANY BOOKS

The War Service Committee of the American Library Association reports that 435,000 books were shipped to American soldiers in France up to July 1. The books went in tonnage space granted at the request of Gen. Pershing on the decks of transports, where they were used by the men on the voyage and repacked for use in France; in naval vessels for naval bases abroad; and in Red Cross tonnage for the hospitals in France and England.

A total of more than 2,500,000 books have been supplied by the American Library Association to the camps and stations in the United States and overseas. Approximately 500,000 of these books were purchased, the others having come as gifts from the American people through the public libraries of the country. Nearly 40 library buildings have been erected, and 600 camps in America, alone, have received collections of books.

Two hundred librarians, including leaders in their profession in this country, are giving their time to Library War Service. Most of these are serving as camp librarians, assistants, and organizers in the field; others are in dispatch offices for the shipment of books to France.

ARMY VOCATIONAL SCHOOL FOR BLINDED FIGHTERS

Returning blinded soldiers, sailors, and marines are being received now for vocational instruction and rehabilitation at Hospital Training School, General Hospital No. 7, the former home of Mrs. T. Harrison Garrett, at Baltimore, Md. The hospital is outfitted to accommodate 250 men and has large recreation fields and an extensive acreage in gardens.

Col. James Bordley, of the Surgeon General's Office in charge of the re-education of the blind, has announced the appointment of O. H. Burritt, of the Pennsylvania Institute for the Instruction of the Blind, as the educational director of this Army hospital training school, with Miss Jenny A. Turner, formerly designer for the Massachusetts Commission for the Blind, as a reconstruction aide. Miss Turner has been working with the returned wounded soldiers at the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington.

The blinded soldiers from overseas will be discharged from the hospital after they have been taught a practical self-supporting trade, have been put in good physical condition, and taught to read standard printing in raised type. The men will be sent to their own home communities and placed in the trades for which they have been trained. Red Cross workers will watch after their welfare.

Co-operating with the Army Medical Department, the Red Cross Institute for the Blind is now making a national survey of industries open to blinded soldiers. Instructions will be made to conform with preparations for these industries. The Federal Board for Vocational Education is arranging a plan for the economic and social supervision of all wounded and maimed soldiers.

CHILDREN MUST PLAY TO BE HEALTHY AND STRONG

A children's recreation drive is on to continue during July and August, under the auspices of the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, and the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. It will culminate in "patriotic play week," September 1-7, in which the work of 11,000,000 women in organizing recreation in 10,000 communities will come to an end.

"To be strong for victory the Nation must let her children play," said Charles Frederick Weller, associate secretary of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America. No time nor money can be spared from war-winning activities, but the winning of the war depends on man power, and man power can not be sustained in any nation without health and wholesomeness in the children.

Far worse than exhausting America's financial capital would be the exhaustion of child life, which is man-power capital.

"England and France began as the United States has been tempted to begin—by letting the children play too heavily for the war in child labor, increased delinquency, overtaxed nerves, weakened bodies, and premature deaths, but England and France turned to lift war burdens from the children by giving them a chance to play. There is urgent need to give our boys and girls an American square deal—their safety valve of play."

Bastille Day, July 14, the French Republic national holiday, was observed and celebrated this year on land and sea by American land and Navy forces under special orders in like manner as is observed the American Fourth of July.

THE VOLUNTEER

(All rights reserved)
 Oft times I think of childhood, and I fancy I can see
 My boyhood's home of California's shore;
 And the little games I used to play around my mother's knee,
 As she sat and sang beside our bungalow door.

I used to climb the orange trees, young turtle doves to seek—
 There never was a sorrow came to me;

And when my evening prayer was said I laid me down to sleep
 In that little quiet home by the sea.

CHORUS:

No matter where I roam my thoughts are on my home;
 Fond memory paints that spot that I long to see,
 And many times a day my thoughts do stray away

To the little vine-clad home so dear to me.

I never shall forget the time I left my native land,
 And turned my back upon that dear old home,
 My mother said that your place is with the patriotic band—

Go volunteer and cheer the boys along.

I bid you be sober and never do a deed
 That to my cheek will bring the blush of shame,
 And when you do bring me the proof of our enemies' defeat,
 I will bless the day that you sailed across the main.

Our country has sent out the call to valley, hill and plain

To rally to Old Glory in our might
 And take a gun and knapsack and sail across the main

To show the kaiser that we mean to fight.

So put on this badge and uniform and battle for the right;

My prayers will follow you wherever you go,

For I have a strong presentiment that You'll win in freedom's fight
 And return to me victorious o'er the foe.

Last night as I lay sleeping I dreamt a pleasant dream
 Of my boyhood's home on California's shore;

I dreamt I saw my mother and my sister through the screen,
 And my father standing by the door.

I dreamt the girl I worshipped was standing by my side;
 My classmates all around me as of yore.

I dreamt her love would never cease as I gazed into her eyes,
 When I woke at the cannon's steady roar.

A shell exploded near our tent just at the break of day.

Our sergeant said, "Get ready boys to go.

Put on your masks to follow me into the enemies' trench,
 And we'll show them how Americans meet their foe."

Our battle cry was shouted and we took the enemy's trench;
 Our company's cheers made one continuous roar.

And with the captured batteries we turned the enemy's flank,
 And with shot and shell drove everything before.

—David S. Foster.

The Army Medical Department has developed a mobile X-ray outfit to be carried on the standard Army ambulance to the front-line trench for the benefit of wounded soldiers. It is desired by Army surgeons to lose no time in ascertaining the extent and conditions of wounds. The outfit is made up of the Delco gas-electric set, the high-tension transformer, and the special type of Coolidge tube.

Mrs. Stanley McCormick, in charge of the department of food production and home economics of the woman's committee, Council of National Defense, gives this advice to farmerettes: "Watch your feet. Don't ignore footwear. You must have a good spinal column to keep up with a good job. The condition of the spinal column depends greatly on the feet. Be picturesque if you wish, but be sensible. Wear good stout boots to preserve health."

Wheat is selling for $50 a bushel in Turkey, reports the American and Syrian Relief Commission in Turkey. Before the war the normal price was 50 to 60 cents per bushel.

H. D. GIBSON ASSIGNED TO FRANCE

The American Red Cross authorizes the following:

Harvey D. Gibson, general manager of the American National Red Cross and member of the war council, has been appointed Red Cross commissioner to France, relieving Maj. James H. Perkins of his duties as head of the French organization. Maj. Perkins will continue in the service as Red Cross commissioner to Europe, having, since the resignation of Maj. Grayson M. P. Murphy to accept a commission on the staff of Gen. Pershing, served as chief of both the European and French commissions. Mr. Gibson will remain a member of the war council during his service in France, which is for an indefinite period.

George Eaton Scott, of Chicago, who has served the Red Cross national headquarters as assistant general manager, has been designated acting general manager. S. M. Greer, formerly director of the department of development, has been appointed assistant general manager, and H. G. Atwater, formerly of the Bureau of Standards, has been appointed assistant to the general manager. These changes are made in consequence of the departure of members of the general manager's staff for France in company with Mr. Gibson.

Second:—Every 200 loaves of Honey Loaf Bread put out saves

If all the bakeries of the entire country saved that amount of wheat daily it would amount to a vast saving. Phone Glendale 1350 and this excellent bread will reach you on our wagons. Again

What The Candidacy of John Robert White, Jr. Means

The candidacy of John Robert White, Jr. for member of the assembly from the Sixty-first Assembly District, on a platform embodying the crying needs of the hour, was brought about by an insistent demand among the substantial citizens of the district for a representative business-man candidate, who was known to be heart and soul in the national movement to win the war at all hazards and, in close connection with that movement, to bring about national prohibition as soon as possible, and to support a policy of Economy, with Efficiency, in the State administration, at all times laboring and planning for the welfare of the country and its soldiers during the war and upon the return of peace.

Residence, 101 S. Orange St., Glendale, Calif.

The announcement of Mr. White's candidacy has met with a ready response and the citizens whose names appear herewith have endorsed him as a man whose record and achievements as a successful business man and loyal American, free from any fads or experimental notions with regard to legislative matters, satisfactorily qualify him for the work necessary to be done in the present crisis.
